The present invention relates to a coil spring, more particularly to an automotive coil spring which has an improved durability. There are various conventional coil springs used for automotive suspension units. For example, there is a coil spring 1, as shown in FIG. 17, which has a corrugated spring wire S (hereinafter called a "spring wire S") as a spring wire material and is formed into a spring steel by drawing. The coil spring 1 has a C-shaped cross section and includes a cylindrical base portion 1A and a pair of leg portions 1B extending downwardly from the base portion 1A. Each of the leg portions 1B is provided with a lower end bent into an acute angle with respect to the base portion 1A. A lower end of each leg portion 1B is inserted into an insertion bore 2 formed in a support member 3 (hereinafter called "a support member 3"), which is disposed in the interior of a vehicle body. At this time, a lower end f678ea9f9e
